

Login Help User Guide

In the Login screen you will see two input fields one for entering your username and one for entering your password.

There are five buttons: Login, Sign Up, Forgot Password, and Exit.

The Login screen is the startup screen in the application.

Login Screen Contents

1. Login Button

Once you have entered a valid username and password in the required input fields, the login button will log you into the application.

If the username or password is wrong, a message box stating which field is invalid will pop up.

2. Sign Up Button

If the user does not have an account, the signup button will take the user to a signup form, where they can signup and get a username and password.

3. Forgot Password Button

If the user has forgotten their password, the forgot password button will take them to a password reset page. They will be able to reset their password by answering security questions.

4. Exit Button

When ever the user needs the application to close, the button will exit the application.